

February 22, 23, 24, 1974.

Dear Patron,

Welcome to our play, COME BACK,
LITTLE SHEBA by William Inge.

Tonight you will see the good people who make up our cast;

Mark Hendren as Doc
Linda Erwin as Marie
Kathy Flinn as Lola
Tom Kelly as Turk
Bill Maddocks as the Postman
Wendy Harter as Mrs. Coffman
Lutrell Jolly as the Milkman
Greg Wilkins as the Messenger
Ray Joyal as Bruce
Mark Bolla as Ed Anderson
Vern Johnson as Elmo Huston

The setting might well be a home in Rensselaer. In Act I, Scene 1, the time is morning in late Spring.
Scene 2 takes place the same evening after supper. After a ten minute intermission, Act II, Scene 1 takes place the following morning; scene 2, late afternoon the same day; scene 3, 5:30 the next morning; and the final scene takes place a week later. Between scenes, there will be a two or three minute pause.

Samuel French Inc. of New York permits us to show you this play after a suitable remuneration.

Those who play a most important, but most of the time, unseen part in the production include the Stage Manager, Wynell Colbert. Those who worked on the setting include:

Bill Nordenbrock
Mark Hendren
Kathy Flinn
Wendy Harter
Monica Bauer
Michael Costello
Joseph Johnson
Thomas Ebbinghaus
Dennis Donlan
John Martin
Albert Torok
Mary DiPiero
Donald Kuchta

Bill Nordenbrock is also running the lights. Joe Johnson is trying his hand at the Sound. Gregory Wilkins and Monica Bauer, Makeup. The Props are managed by Mark Bolla, Bill Maddocks, Lutrell Jolly, and Wendy Harter.

Mary Ellen Cross is our House Manager. She is being assisted by Kathy Duffy, Joyce Moran, Mary Schueren, Margie Testin, and Joy Faherty.

To all these fine people, much thanks.

We would be remiss if we did not express our gratitude to those outside the production staff who contributed so willingly to the success of our play.

Mr. Keith Robinson
Dr. David Chesak
Mr. Thomas Moore

This play is produced as part of the program offered by the Department of Communications and Theatre Arts, Doctor Ralph Cappuccilli, Chairman.

We hope that you will enjoy this play and the offering in April. Thank you for coming.

Sincerely yours,
W.H. Walsh
Director.
